The Age of Consequences

Movie and panel discussion

Stark, profound, sobering and downright scary, but what does it mean for you?

Scientists stress that we are facing an existential threat to human life within the lifetimes of many people alive today. What does this mean? Now unfettered by their careers, experts unpack what climate change means in military terms.

Be part of the discussion with the panel where people who have dedicated decades of their lives to the issue explain what their take home message is. Tim will provide some insight on why change is so slow and what you can do to help speed up the movement for change.

Whether you have seen the movie or watched the shortened version on 4Corners, you need to take part in this. How you deal with the information is up to you but it will have a profound influence on you.

PENTAGON QUOTES

“Climate change can act as a THREAT MULTIPLIER FOR INSTABILITY in some of the most volatile regions of the world, and it presents significant national security challenges for the United States.”

- Center for Naval Analysis (CNA) Military Advisory Board, “National Security and the Threat of Climate Change” 2007

“Climate Change may act as an ACCELERANT OF INSTABILITY OR CONFLICT, placing the burden to respond on civilian institutions and militaries around the world.”

- Department of Defense, “The Quadrennial Defense Review Report” 2010

“We see more clearly now that while projected climate change should serve as catalyst for change and cooperation, it can also be a CATALYST FOR CONFLICT.”

- CNA Military Advisory Board “National Security and the Accelerating Risks of Climate Change” 2014

“Climate change will affect the Department of Defense's ability to defend the nation and poses IMMEDIATE RISKS TO U.S. NATIONAL SECURITY. The Department is responding to climate change in two ways: adaptation or efforts to plan for the changes that are occurring or expected to occur; and mitigation, or efforts that reduce greenhouse gas emissions.”

- Department of Defense, “Climate Change Adaptation Roadmap” 2014
