Presents:

The Brisbane 2011 Floods - 2 years on (Part 1 Backflow Prevention)

Much has been made of backflow prevention devices in the media both before and after the recent floods.

Steve Posselt, Managing Director, Australian Water Engineers, as a supplier of backflow prevention devices, will describe available devices with comments on suitability for the Brisbane River.

Steve is the most experienced engineer in Australia in the design and manufacture of these devices. He has been in the industry since 1971 and has specialised in the design and manufacture of flow control equipment since 1998. His presentation will range from the most fundamental concepts to state of the art design and materials.

He will also share his views on the appropriateness, or otherwise, of the devices and the role of engineers in providing them.

Any opinions expressed by Steve will be offered in the spirit of inspiring informed debate and do not reflect the opinions of Engineers Australia or the Society.

Drinks and Networking

Please join us for a few drinks and light supper after the presentation.
